

Brian has many technical papers to his credit. The range of machinery problems they cover includes all manner of reciprocating and rotating machinery and piping systems, balancing and alignment of machines, finite element analysis, modelling of pressure pulsation, torsional vibration testing and modelling, flow-induced pulsation troubleshooting and design, pulp and paper equipment such as pulp refiners, etc. He has also worked on hundreds of reciprocating compressor installations.